Uffculme Music & Real Ale Festival 2026

PROGRAMME

Friday 7-8pm: 10 Strings Attached are a lively acoustic duo from Taunton featuring Annabel Ennals (vocals and ukulele) and Simone Ritorto (guitar). After several years performing on cruise ships for MSC and P&O Australia, they've returned to the West Country with a polished and engaging live show. With warm harmonies and a wide repertoire, they move effortlessly from relaxed acoustic favourites to upbeat crowd-pleasing sing-alongs.

Friday 8:30-9:45pm: House of Purple are a five-piece band from the Bristol, Exeter and Uffculme area bringing a lively mix of rock, funk and soulful covers. With powerful lead vocals and a driving rhythm section behind twin guitars, they deliver a big, groove-filled live sound. Expect familiar favourites, plenty of energy and a set built to get the crowd moving and keep the dancefloor lively throughout the evening performance.

Friday 10:25-11:55pm: Riviera Dogs are a five-piece 80s party band from Torbay, the English Riviera. No lycra, wigs or make-up – just faithful renditions of songs from the greatest decade in music! Formed as a side project in 2013, they quickly found themselves in high demand and are now firmly established as a leading choice for 80s nostalgia across the UK. The band features highly experienced professional musicians, including current touring members for Joss Stone and Bastille. Over the years they have headlined many music festivals and played numerous high-profile corporate events, as well as supporting 80s legends Go West, Aswad, Katrina & The Waves, and Boney M. With a high-energy frontman, Riviera Dogs deliver a feel-good night of big hits, movie tunes and forgotten gems.

Saturday 2:10pm-2:55pm: Founded in 2005 by Caroline Redman Lusher MBE, Rock Choir is the UK's leading contemporary choir, with thousands of members and millions raised for charity. Sixty choristers, led by Carey Camel, open Saturday's festivities. They bring harmony and uplifting energy to start the day.

Saturday 3:20-4:05pm: Romilly Priest is a young singer-songwriter and a pupil at Uffculme School, writing thoughtful folky country-pop songs and performing them with warm vocals and acoustic guitar. Her original tracks “Mirror” and “Raindrops” are available on Spotify. With confident songwriting and an engaging live style, Romilly is an exciting emerging local talent to watch on the festival stage this afternoon.

Saturday 4:30-5:15pm: Sarah Yeo has her roots in the Country, Folk and Americana genres. A Devon girl, she has made a strong impression on the live music scene for over two decades. More recently she has won fans performing in New York City and California. Her voice has been likened to artists such as Karen Carpenter, The Corrs and Mary Chapin Carpenter. Jim Marshall, founder of Marshall Amps, once named her his favourite singer.

Saturday 5:40-6:25pm: Jon Maybey is a virtuoso guitarist and mandolin player whose solo performances blend folk, rock, reggae and blues influences. Using looping and foot percussion, he builds rich instrumental soundscapes live on stage. A graduate of Leeds College of Music, Jon has toured Europe and the UK with electro-folk band Elephant Talk and continues to create captivating, rhythm-driven performances.

Saturday 6:50-7:50pm: Tricky Situation are a four-piece blues and soul band from Exeter bringing together more than 130 years of combined gigging experience. Formed in 2019 after a South Devon pub jam session, the band features Verity Greenaway (vocals, acoustic guitar), Phil Bowler (lead guitar, vocals), Nigel Bushell (bass) and David Torres (drums), delivering smooth vocals, soaring guitar lines and irresistible groove.

Saturday 8:25-9:45pm: Square 1 are a local five-piece covers band delivering a lively, crowd-pleasing set. Backing up Tomas Brain on vocals are bass, drums, keyboard and guitar. Their wide-ranging setlist spans artists such as Gary Moore, The Rolling Stones, Deacon Blue, Hall & Oates, The Darkness, Bryan Adams, Del Amitri, Tom Petty and more. One of the band members hails from Uffculme itself... can you spot him?

Saturday 10:25-11:55pm: Six Machine are a high-energy rock/pop covers band known for turning any venue into a packed dancefloor. A firm favourite on the South West live music circuit, they deliver a powerful set of crowd-pleasing anthems from across the decades. With soaring vocals, driving guitars and a tight rhythm section, their shows are all about big songs, energy and getting audiences singing and dancing from the first note. Drawing on a repertoire of classic rock, pop and indie favourites, Six Machine create an electric atmosphere wherever they play. Expect a Saturday night finale full of unforgettable tunes, and a lively crowd from start to finish, as the band bring the festival to a close in style with a set packed full of energy, nostalgia and pure live music excitement, bringing together festival-goers of all ages for a memorable night of live music, celebration and shared moments that perfectly round off a fantastic weekend.
